MINIMUM RENT HARDSHIP EXEMPTION

The Minimum Rent Hardship Exemption is designed to allow Caribou Housing Authority to address unique unforeseeable circumstances that may occur and protect families in crisis. In order to be considered for a hardship rent, the household must apply for all benefits for which they may be eligible. Zero income families will be required to report income changes on a quarterly basis, until income is restored to the household.

HARDSHIP ELIGIBILITY

To be eligible for a hardship a Section 8 family must be paying more than 50% of their gross monthly income towards their gross rent (contract rent and utilities). Families paying less than 50% of their gross monthly income towards their gross rent will not generally qualify for a hardship exemption. In determining gross rent, the following amounts will not qualify for a hardship exemption:

- Additional amount a family has chosen to pay above the payment standard for an assisted unit:
- Amount of subsidy reduction for mixed families (a mixed family is one that includes at least one U.S. citizen or eligible non-citizen and any number of ineligible family members).

HARDSHIP OPTIONS

The following situations may qualify for a hardship exemption:

1. Loss of eligibility for benefit income. The family has lost eligibility from a federal, state, or local assistance program.
2. Awaiting determination of eligibility for benefit income. The family is awaiting an eligibility determination from a federal, state, or local assistance program
3. Family will be evicted without exemption. The family would be evicted because is unable to pay the minimum rent.
4. Decrease in family income, including loss of employment. Family income has decreased because of change family circumstances, included loss of employment.
5. Death in the family. A death in the household that affects the family's financial circumstances

TYPES OF HARDSHIP EXEMPTIONS

- Temporary Hardship Exemption (lasting 90 days or less): the rent will be reinstated, including any back rent owed from the beginning of the suspension once the hardship has ended. The family must pay back rent by entering into a repayment agreement with the housing authority.
- Long-Term Hardship Exemption (lasting more than 90 days): The family will be exempt from the minimum rent so long as such hardship continues. Such exemption shall apply from the beginning of the month following the family's request for a hardship exemption until the end of the qualifying financial hardship. No back rent will be owed.
